Ms. Brasher,
Hi. You were my Favorite teacher I had ever had. And I'm really going to miss you. But I'll try to come visit
you. If I can't, write me some time. 170 meadows Road

Ms. Braster,

You are my favorite teacher

At my best friend! You taught me that I never really knew before & you might see me in pictures or magazine or what I really like if I'm on

TV, I will be a wonderful artist,

can draw really good. I bet

Theresa is proud of her painting of the guy who lost his head.

NOT, well I like it. I will really, truly miss you when I have to go to the scary vaca High place!

When I draw or paint a picture or even look at my chickens I will think of you. K.I.T. + use

Sunscreen over the summer you don't want to end up like me + be burnt to a crisp! Well stay cool on Hot

Summer Days! and

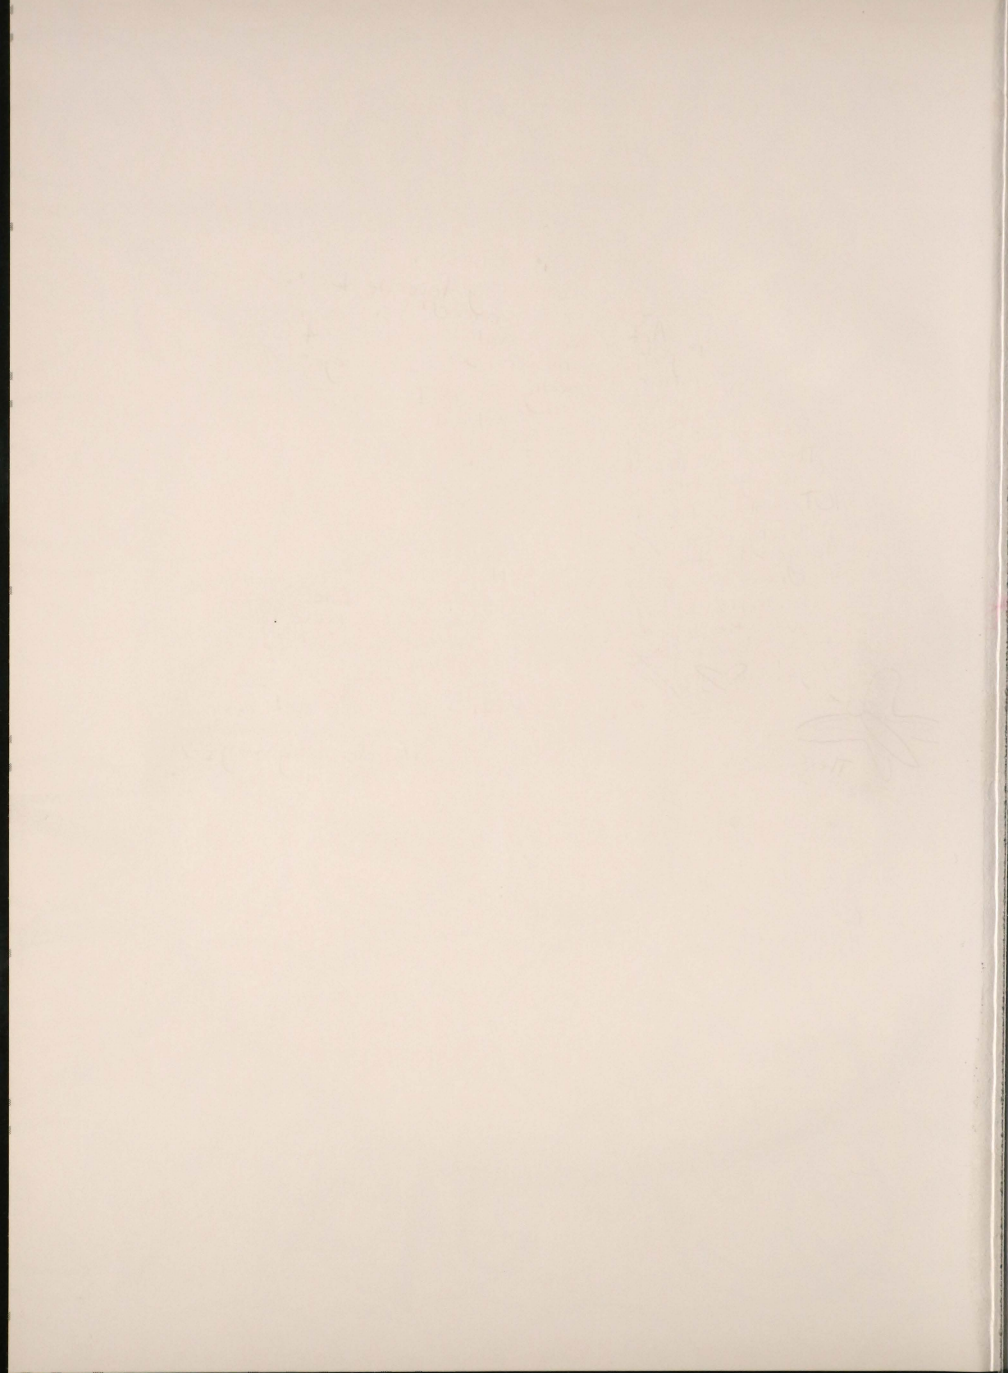

Rachel Theris

P.S. I will do art over the summer, there is nothing else to do any way.

Theresa! don't do that!

Illiana Lopez, Nick Butler, Kevin Gray, Crystal Castillo, and Kari Ratcliff all enjoy their lollypops so they can be awake. Look how well it works.

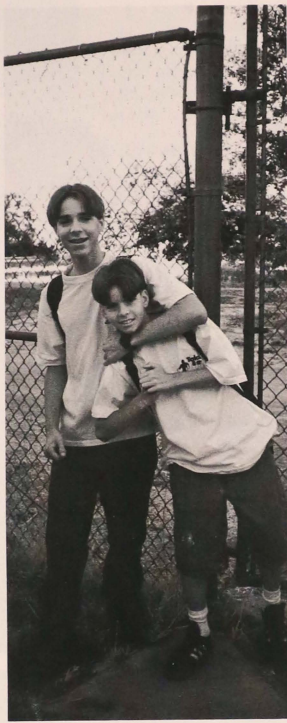

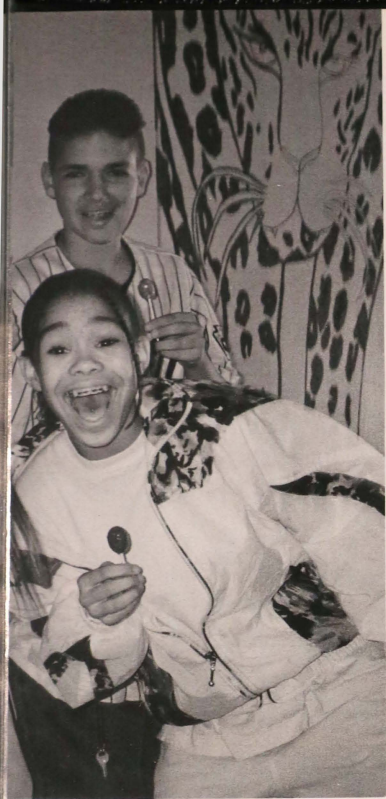

Debbie Wells, Ben Lopez, and Beto Larios are anxiously walking from the bus for another exciting day at school.

Scott Carlock, Brandon Kimbell, David Davidson, Sam Houston, Alex Rios, and Scott George run to get to first period.

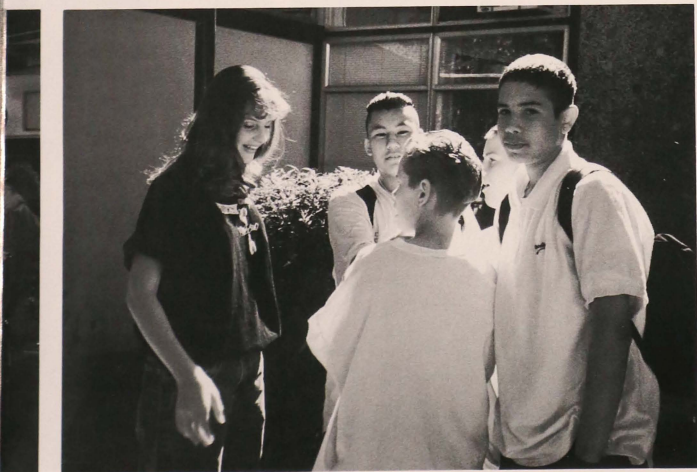

Lets hope that John Reilly has had a good wake up call and enough sleep. This is the perfect example of what not to do.

Zac Hays and Danny Bell are one step closer to becoming twins. Look they are almost identical.

After all the kids are gone, Mrs. Helmer thinks, "Will they ever learn to clean up after themselves."

Melissa Abreu, Alex Rios, Harvey Gomes, and Tony Lewis are enjoying a morning chat.

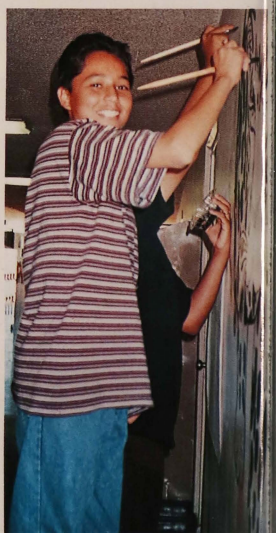

Mrs. Scalabrino waits for the bell to hear the kids running and screaming down the halls.

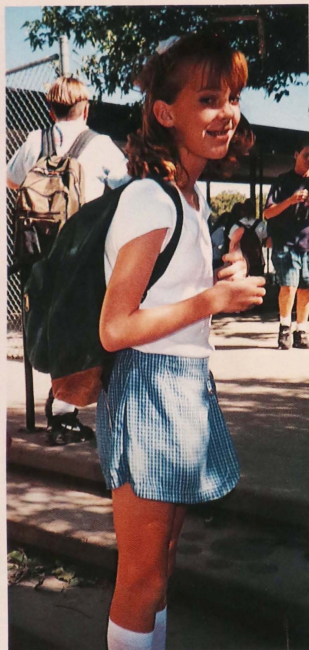

Noelle Aponte, Lilliana Lopez, Stephanie Tiscareno, and Deirdre Banayat like to show off their crop-tops and baggy jeans.

There are many different styles to wear on your two little tootsies. So, which shoes do you choose? Can you guess whose shoes are shown above?

Is this the next Vincent Van Gogh ? Artist in training, Frankie Mesta shows off his talent while working on the Jazzy Jags mural in "G" hall.

Looking cute, Kristen King strikes a pose in her knee highs and plaid mini skirt. This is one of the latest fashions Jepson girls like to wear to school. And the backpack is the perfect necessary accessory.

With matching shirts and lots of affection, Liz Boles and Shannon Valdez smile for the camera. Most every fashion conscious student at Jepson owns at least one striped T-shirt.

Who says boys can't have fun? Tony Lewis is giving away chips as Johnny Eguizabel stands by.

Peer assistant Breanne Burbey introduces the new seventh graders to the Jepson campus.

Below: Harley asks for a cookie from Sam, Roberto thinks I want one too!
 Right: Denise, Monique, Lindsey, Erin, and Tocarra stand as one happy family.

Kori Weaver, Anna Heil, Alicia Ledesma, Nichole Casavant, and Raven Andronico say "1-2-3 kick"

Seventh grader Louis Russo tries to make a quick escape from the yearbook photographer during lunch.

Jessica Neil and Melissa Wallis laugh and talk as Steven Mier keeps his eyes on the sunchips

"I can eat for my self." Nick Blouw says as Diana Fasanaro tries to force feed him.
Andrea Marlowe and Tabatha Cotichio laugh at a joke Melissa Mulqueen just told.

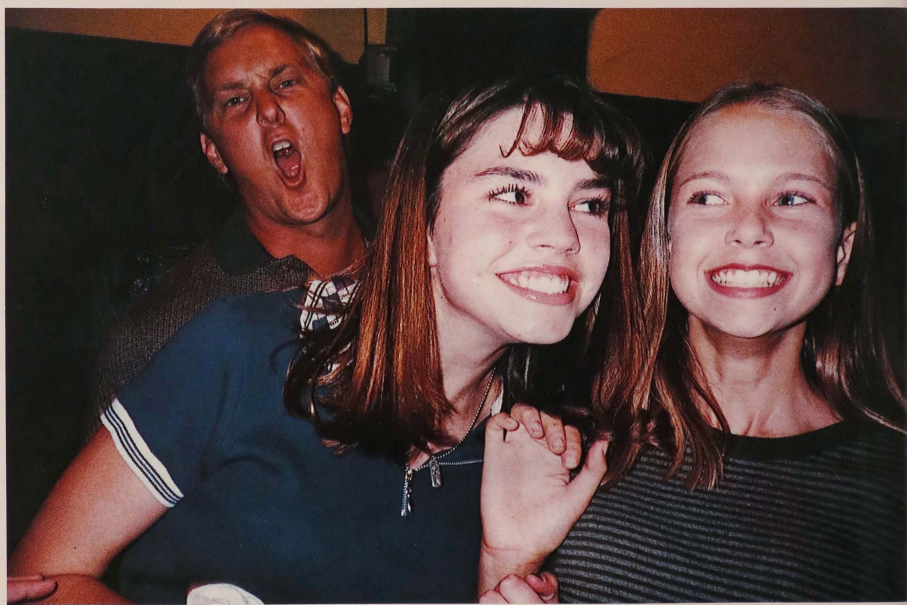

Shawn Ray kisses Melissa Wallis while Steven Mier watches jealously

Tyler, Logan, Scott, John, Jason and Forest wait patiently for some girls to walk by.

Right: What a rally! Jepson's star girl athletes give the old heave ho to the competition. The Vaca Pena team lands in a kiddie pool of shaving cream. Hey, those Pena girls look familiar.

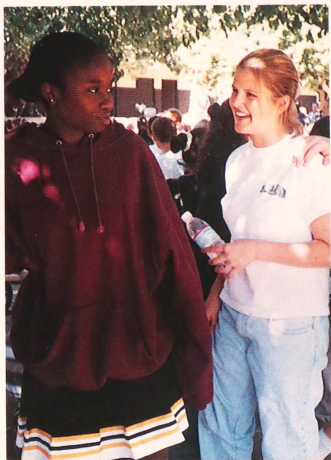

Below: What is Mr. Henry saying. Or could it be that Katherine Turk and Melissa Mulqueen are up to something. Those great smiles sure look like mischievous grins.

School Dayz!?

Jessica Berumen and Lindsey Anderson talk about the mini slices of pizza you get for a $1.25. Hungry?

Right: It's not their bark, it's their bite. "Enough of the Ruff-Ruff stuff." Danielle Dubois and Janine Del Castillo dress as cute and cuddly puppies for the Harvest Dance.

Left: "Where are the ducks?" Mrs. Brauning is armed and ready. Although, teachers with squirt guns always make me nervous.

Below: Only a brave man could wear a skirt. Is that Dustin Mills dressed up for Trick or treat? Hey, who does your makeup and nails?

Left: You look a little old for middle school. Is this death or just what happens to you when you get too much homework?

Above: "Urgh, Let me out!" Billy Curry is ready to crack in Ms. Bequette's Alpha class. Will his face get stuck like that?

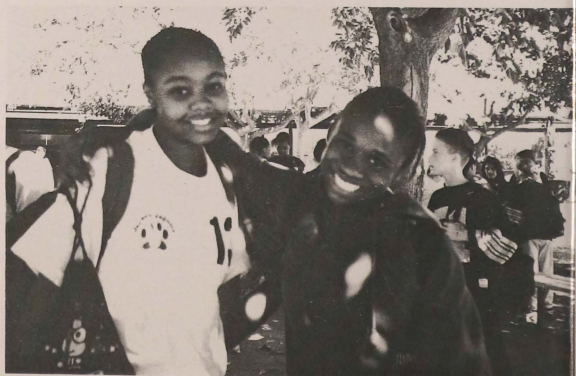

The Party's Over Jepson's Class of 96

Top: Liz Boles, Katherine Turk, and Justin Higgs smile at the Honor Society reception.

Middle: Jepson's star football team entertains us at the first rally of the year. The team tied for 1st place.

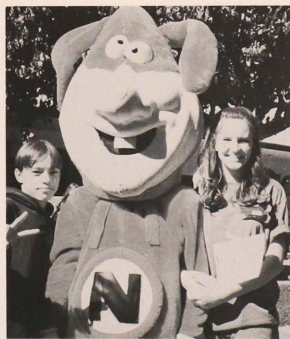

Bottom: Lindsey Anderson shows seventh grade friend the ropes.

Left: Which one will scare the most crows? Tiffany Hindman, and Ms.Brasher set up Pablo Picrowso, at the Nut Tree's Pumpkin Patch. Pablo won second place thanks to the artists in Sketch Book Alpha.

Below: WOOF ! WOOF ! Tazman, the wonder puppy comes to the rescue. Mrs. Fanning and family are training Taz to be a canine companion for a disabled person.

UNDEFEATED

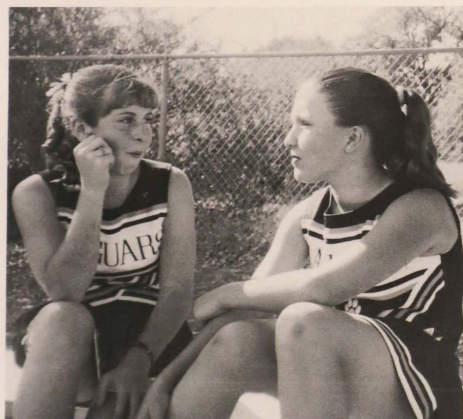

1996 was a great year for the Jepson football team. Even Keith Covill can not hide his enthusiasm for Jaguar football. The guys brought home the championship with 5 wins and only 1 loss.

Left: The Jepson football team listens as Mr. Clark explains the next play. The whole school is proud of the Jaguar's victory.

Below: Robbie Sweatfield shows what made the Boys Cross country team Champions. Dedication and endurance.

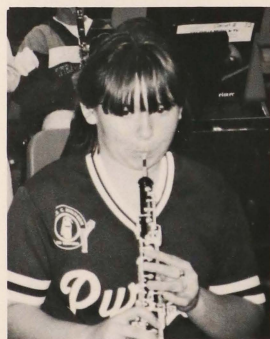

Left: Five banners were added to the gym's wall of fame. It was a record breaking year at Jepson with all the Championship teams. Jenny Damman and Stephanie Daveris proudly display the new NSAL championship banners at the rally to honor the sports teams.

Here's the Seventh Grade

Top: "Don't mind Pat. He's usually always like this," says Kalina.

Bottom: Mrs. Hunt's class has a Halloween party.

Side: 7th Grader Mollie Cochran smiles in her Drill Team uniform.

Below: "Lean on me... but the other way," said Diana Williams to Steven. Schlick-Harris.

Above: How exciting is 7th grade? Ask Lauren McKendry and Collin Van Vesslem. They'll tell you. Side: Perhaps they'll be architects when they get older. Jeremy, Barbara, Chris, and Elena Build a straw hut.

JAZZY JAGS

GOLDEN JAGS

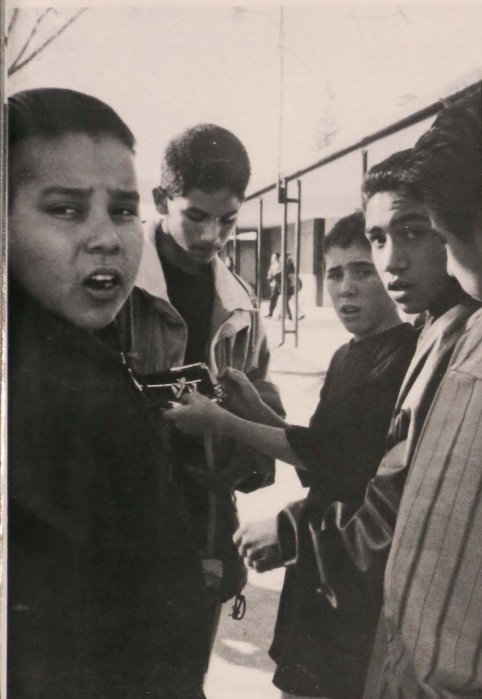

Top: Great face Melissa. Elisha; Kara and Natalie in Miss Balls room.

Below: Jenny Stanley; Terri Salvi and Janine Del Castillo become proud parents early.
Bottom: The end of another day at Willis Jepson Middle School.

Q. How Do You Get His/Her Attention?

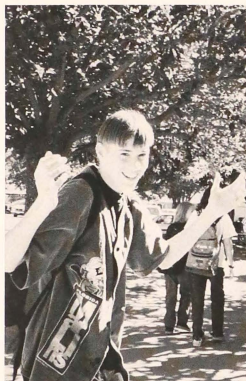

Right: Victor Zepeda - "I talk to her alot."

Lilliana Lopez - " Flirt around and ask for some digits. Stare at him constantly."

Hector Garcia - "Approach her and say, What's up with us?"

Pedro Lopez - "Walk her to class and ask her what's going to happen with me and you."

Below: Randy Simmons just doesn't know.

Below: Harvey Gomes- "Put my arm around her and talk to her on the phone a lot."

Left: Nick Butler- "I'd flirt with them or 'SHOWOFF!'"

Twin Day

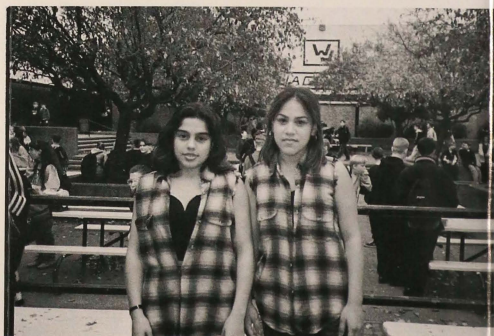

February 2, 1996 Jepson students are seeing double. Above: Andrea Marlowe, and Jackie Mansel are twins. Right: Joseph Heywood and John Riley will be future soccer models.

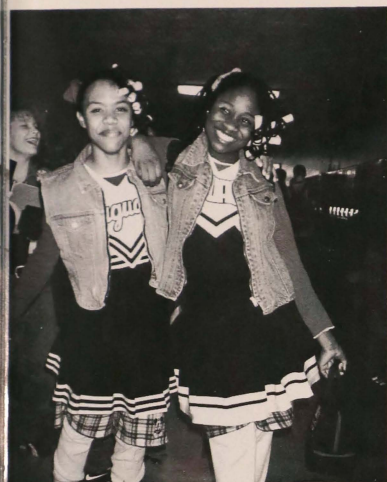

Above: Mrs. Anders and Mrs. Swank prove that even teachers have that twin spirit, showing off their snazy scarfs.

Left: Many teachers chose to be Mr. Mansuy's twin. He's a very popular guy as Mrs. Wilkerson and Mrs. Spradlin wear their Mansuy neck tie and sport coat.

Willis Jepson's Teachers and Administration

Top: Mrs. Hall wins for best smile.
Above and right: School doesn't stop at 2:30 for these hardworking teachers. Every Tuesday and Thursday you'll find these teachers at Homework Club.

Right: Mrs. Henry is showing Mr. Nelson a wrestling move or two.

Below: Mrs. Lee is just counting the days until she can get her baby out.
